

Effects on you

Consider how you would feel about how close you could get to the child abuse taking place. At what point does it become unacceptable for you? Draw a line between where you would and would not be able to voluntarily go forward with the action.

PART A: How would you feel about being there? Where do you draw the line?

- Finding images or downloading links and not reporting them to the police
- Watching/looking and trading the videos and images on your computer
- Listening to the abuse through a wall from a different room
- Seeing the abuse through a window
- Standing in the room and watching the abuse take place
- Being the person taking the video/photographs or directing the action
- Actively participating in the abuse

Explain why you have placed your line where you did.

What might this tell you about downloading sexual images of minors?
